THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Tuesday, January 25, 1966, 12:20 p.m.

Through: Mr. Valenti

Mr. President:

In the attached, Dean Rusk asks you to receive Burke Elbrick, ^{now} Ambassador to Yugoslavia.
Elbrick will be in town until Friday, February 4.

If your schedule is not too tight, a short session with Elbrick would be a useful signal to Tito that you care about your relations with him. As you know, for a Communist, Tito has been increasingly sensible and sympathetic to our situation in Vietnam.
