Dear Mr. Conway:

Thank you very much for the three books on Irish music. They are a substantial addition to our Irish Studies Library. I am enclosing a sample of the book plate that will be placed in them with the proper names inscribed according to your instructions.

The Student Affairs staff did not ask me to participate in Parent's Weekend this year. This was probably due to the fact that my husband had a heart attack in January and I was hospitalized myself for several days. We are both feeling much better now.

The College Archives, where I saw you last year, has been moved to the Administration Building so that all the special collections are now under one roof. If you are on campus at all, to pick up your daughter or such, I would be glad to give you a tour of the Irish Studies Library and the Ames Shovel Papers. My extension is #396.

Once again my thanks for giving Stonehill's Institute of Irish Studies your wonderful old music books.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Conway:

As a result of our conversation last Saturday in the Archives, I spoke to the President of the College, Father MacPhaidin, about your interest in placing your books on Irish music on our new Irish Studies Library. He was delighted with the idea for he sees this new collection as one that encompasses Irish culture and will include literature, drama, music and art.

If you decide to give these volumes to Stonehill they would of course bear a book plate that would proclaim them as your gift.

I hope that you and your wife and daughter enjoyed Parents' Weekend. It was a pleasure to have you visit the Archives.
