cast your own words into the net

the sea waters are warming encounters the prince on his ship, their worlds collide

The storm came up at night, lightening illuminating the merciless waves that crash down and hold the ship in it their steely grasp.

Mermaids are sometimes associated with perilous events such as floods, storms, shipwrecks and drownings...

the feel of a net brushing shoulders can soothe...But brushing turns to twisting and trapping.

Den stakkels havfrue og hendes koereste er ovenvande, da et skibsbrud får skibet til at styrte om. Hendes kaereste omkommer. Men havfruen skyller i land. Prinsen finder hende på stranden.

I am the cessation of wind..those last lumbering impotent clouds hugging hills after the storm

On board, is the Captain, sailing home after ten months at sea.

Looking up from her electronic device, she noticed what the storm washed up... a man, a prince?

I go down with this ship, lost to the sea with the bones and the bargains at the bottom

Desperate for their reunion, he has gambled by trying to outrun the storm and he now wonders if he has made a fatal mistake

grønne fisk, gule soestjerner, krabber...et uhyre et monster

She whispered, her writing is bubbles and made of the sea spray. Can you read it?

I was just going to GLANCE at Facebook. Six hours have passed! I'm caught in the net!

The storm came up at night, lightening illuminating the merciless waves that crash down and hold the ship in it their steely grasp

Caught in a net of her own design. Rescue her or toss her back?

What gets caught in the net?

The Captain, closes his eyes and pleads to the wind, the storm, to take him home safely to his beloved family

giant waves crashing

Blustery Billy pilots the ship. The sky is sickly green, like phosphorescent pea soup. A barrel of magic cheese rolls off the deck and gets stuck in the net.

I am the one who is rescuing the prince

It is amazing to see this human made vessel brace the rough sea.

and is drawn to the instability that the lower levels of the sea do not experience.

She talks to the people on board and explains her campaign and the values she wants to represent as President.
They love her for her qualifications and pledge their support.

Took a break outside. Saw some folks in trouble

Men look at her and want to take and take, her tail and her voice and her body. But they have what she wants too.
And so she goes.

A princess of the sea!

After living under the sea for a decade, she wonders if creatures beyond the sea world watch rick and morty.

the waters were rough, the sky was black, but what seemed so dark enlightened her soul.

She then unleashes a fury like no other, smacking everyone relentlessly their faces were no more.

Her first encounter with a human being would be like something unfamiliar: confused and insubordinate

There comes a time when everyone must decide who they are as a person and question what they have been taught. The truth will come to those who seek it.

within it she will find some of the answers she seeks she sees the opportunity to broaden her reign to a world above the sea floor.

Power- but the wrong kind. Like alternating and direct current; can't cash in gotta sell-out or die-out with some treasure full of gold.

Wondering how to encounter her new world with her new legs.

Curiosity does its thing and the mermaid discovers a new world, facing new challenges, hardships and opportunities

Which her parents told her could bring her bliss and/or torment depending on what the intentions of the humans were.

life has become unfortunate

She saw the men and reminds her of the ancient curse of her voice

Although she feels alone in this sojourn, she trusts herself that she is following her passion for the right reasons.

I want to know more of the outside, but I know I shouldn't, but I want to...

outside of water was extremely hotter than inside,

She knows this may be her only chance to flee.

She opens her eyes and realizes there's more out in the world leading to new discoveries.

She has her first taste of freedom, and will never turn back.

she encounters the craziness and is overwhelmed instead of turning towards the ship, she decides to swim back to her family. She was too afraid to leave and approach the ship.

I hope he knows I'm not that kind of girl.

As life goes on, society had told them that they can't be who they are, only what society sees as "right".

and she realizes what she has always wanted is actually just a cruel world.

She's starts to question who she really is when she told nis family that ne was queer they weren't very accepting so ne fled to the surface in search of a more accepting chosen family with the land dwellers

Keep swimming and never give up.

When she grows old enough, the Meme-maid swims up to the surface where she encounters a ship on the stormy yee.
