

U of M Research & Outreach Stations

The West Central & Southern Research and Outreach Centers (WCROC & SROC) conduct basic and applied agricultural research. WCROC research areas include Dairy, Swine, Horticulture, Agronomy & Soil Science, and Renewable Energy. SROC researches the areas of Agronomy, Dairy & Dairy-beef, Horticultural Science, Nematology, Soil Science & Water Quality, Swine Nutrition & Management, and Renewable Energy & Environmental Engineering.

What:

Keywords: Agricultural practices > Farming methods, Education

1910 & 1913 to the present

When/Where: WCROC: Morris, MN. SROC: Waseca, MN.

Academics (researchers), other scientists, farmers/producers.

Who: "We work with researchers, students, farmers, the rural community, and the general public."

To keep up to date on current research in these areas, which has a definite focus on real-world application.

Why:

How:

<http://wcroc.cfans.umn.edu/Research/index.htm> & <http://sroc.cfans.umn.edu/Research/index.htm>

Person / community
Type: