

Type: Person / community

What: Institute for Agriculture & Trade Policy (IATP)
Analyzes global trade policy's impacts on domestic food/farming policy, advocates for fair trade policy (health, labor/human rights, environment, democracy)

Keywords: Food system > Economic feasibility, Food justice > Ethnic or racial dynamics, Policy

When/Where: 1986 - present
Founded in Minneapolis, still has central office there. Also in Washington DC now.

Who: Mark Ritchie was founder

Why: Monitors, studies, and advocates for change in domestic and international policy, concerned with diverse aspects of the food system (both domestic & international)

How: Mission statement: "IATP works locally and globally at the intersection of policy and practice to ensure fair and sustainable food, farm and trade systems."