

Knowledge/Experience

Type:

What: Adequacy of Federal School Lunch Reimbursement Adjustments

Keywords: school lunches, nutrition, food prices
accessibility, food security, food policy, subsidies, National School Lunch Program (NSLP)

When/Where: 10/1/2009

Who: Koel Gosh and Benjamin Senauer, both part of the Applied Economics at the University of Minnesota.
Funded by Healthy Foods, Healthy Lives
other researchers, the general public, policy makers

Why: To investigate school lunch costs and reimbursement rates, with particular attention to discrepancies between states.

How: subject to peer review before publication, useful in its assessment of policy