

Knowledge/Experience

What: Review of Community Food Security Lit & Future Directions for Addressing Community Food Insecurity in N Mpls

Keywords: food insecurity, poverty, health equity / disparity, minorities
African Americans, Blacks, groceries, Hennepin County, Neighborhood Planning for Community Revitalization (NPCR), North Minneapolis, nutrition, health, obesity, health equity / disparity, community, social collaborations, access, hunger

When/Where: 7/X/2007

Who: Gillian Lawrence, through CURA's Neighborhood Planning for Community Revitalization (NPCR) Northside Food Project, academics, public health / nutrition professionals

Type:

Why: To provide data to the Northside Food Project (NFP) by conducting a literature review on food insecurity in low-income communities, and by researching demographic and food insecurity-related data and the need for a community food security assessment in North Minneapolis.

How: Synthesizes many scholarly works on food insecurity, as well as census data specific to N Mpls. Cites examples of other cities' efforts to address food insecurity.