3. Video/Case Studies

LIKES:

--Can relate - real, possible situation promoted more discussion.
--I thought it was helpful to have a visual example to base discussion on.
--Real life experiences.
--Good example. The situation was similar to college life.
--Got the point across.
--I think the video gave a good example.
--Brought up good discussion.
--Shows that a girl has the right to change her mind.
--Good examples. Really got to the point.
--Somewhat realistic.
--Issues.
--Situation was real.
--Realistic for the most part.

DISLIKES:

--Seemed like it was too planned.
--Kind of cheesy video.
--Not very real life. Guest it was just to take up the time.
--Modern stereotypical situation (frat party).
--A little fake - situation was fast.
--A little old. Need to have updated version.

4. Discussion

LIKES:

--Openness, communication, real, relevant and instructors understand and can relate to college students.
--I thought the discussion opened people's eyes to other views that they didn't see before.
--New and interested topics were discussed. Experiences were discussed.
--Very open. I liked the circle.

--I liked the discussion because I learned a lot from the others.
--Learned different kinds sexual harassment.
--Everyone could talk. Opinions were respected.
--Facilitated critical thinking.
--Question. Pushing for participation.
--We talked about blaming the victim.
--Good debate. Honesty.
--Very open. Felt comfortable talking.

DISLIKES:

--At first no one was open.
--We weren't in a circle the first time.
--When I got quiet after about a ten minute discussion, shouldn't keep asking us to talk.
