Southern California history comes alive in exhibits by 60 historical collections and archives—including L.A.-area universities, libraries, museums, and community organizations. Browse rare collections, consult with experts, and learn about family genealogy, online research tools, preserving your own history, and numerous other topics. Presented by L.A. as SUBJECT, the bazaar offers a wealth of resources for exploring Los Angeles history. L.A. as Subject—an association of archives and collections hosted by the USC Libraries—is dedicated to improving the visibility, access, and preservation of archives and documenting the rich history of the Los Angeles region. Educational programs, discussions about history with local authors, and documentary films about the hidden stories of Los Angeles communities are scheduled throughout the day.

DOCUMENTARY FILM SCREENINGS

On These Shoulders We Stand

Director Glenne McElhinney offers an illuminating historical account of early gay life and activism in Los Angeles, as told by the people who lived it. The film brings to light the city's hidden gay history by interweaving first-person accounts from the 1950s to the early 1980s with narration and unprecedented access to archival materials.

Inventing L.A.: The Chandlers and Their Times

Inventing L.A. follows Los Angeles Times publishers Harrison Gray Otis, Harry Chandler, Norman Chandler, and Otis Chandler. Director Peter Jones says, "The film chronicles the ambitious, ruthless, ingenious, and often self-serving methods by which each man employed the newspaper to help turn a town of 12,000...into a...sprawl of 4 million people."
