L.A. AS SUBJECT:

Visual and Virtual Paths to L.A. Community Archives and Collections

You are invited to attend a reception celebrating the transition of the L.A. as Subject online database to its new home at the University of Southern California's Archival Research Center.

In addition, L.A. as Subject is sponsoring an exhibition of archival materials from various Los Angeles collections.

Please come and view the exhibition, network with colleagues, and plan for the future of the L.A. as Subject database.

Update

Celebrate

This event will offer database members an opportunity to update their individual archival records and discuss the ongoing evolution of this vital cultural resource.

The exhibition, Visual and Virtual Paths to L.A. Community Archives and Collections, will illuminate some of our city's little-known archives by providing a rare opportunity to see examples from these collections in one location. The exhibition also will feature a virtual component designed to highlight additional materials in the L.A. as Subject database and demonstrate how its resources can be made available online to wider audiences. The exhibition will be on display from September 12 - November 27, 2002, on the ground floor of Doheny Memorial Library.

This reception is planned in conjunction with the Doheny Memorial Library 70th Anniversary. A number of events are scheduled throughout the day. You are welcome to drop by the library beginning at 2:00 p.m. to attend an open house, featuring tours of the special collections and hands-on demonstrations of the research services provided by reference staff. A reception for the exhibition Beyond The Tip of the Iceberg: The Discovery and Exploration of Antarctica also will be held from 4:30-6:30 p.m. outside the library's first-floor Treasure Room.
