

Wimpy bars bow to Women's Lib

Unaccompanied women will be served after midnight in Wimpy houses. This was announced yesterday after a meeting between the Empire Catering Company—which holds the franchise for the Wimpy chain—and members of the Women's Liberation Workshop.

Five years ago the company was apparently prosecuted for serving a prostitute. Since then unaccompanied women have been banned between midnight and 6 am, despite demonstrations by Women's Lib members.